“Domestic violence takes a tremendous toll on victims and our community as a whole. One of the best ways we can support those affected by domestic violence is by monitoring and ensuring compliance with court orders of those under our supervision for domestic violence offenses. By doing so, our officers have the ability to intervene and prevent further victimization. We are proud of our officers and the work they do supporting those affected by domestic violence, and helping individuals under their supervision make positive changes to their lives.” - Marc Marquez, Chief Deputy of Adult Field Services
